2. Subcommittee Reports

Advising

The advising subcommittee has established initial trends regarding the Pathways courses chosen by Pamplin College of Business students and is planning to further analyze the data over the coming weeks.

Assessment

For those who have not had a chance to view them yet, the Pathways Assessment Interactive Data Visualizations can be accessed at:

Collaboratory

The Collaboratory subcommittee is currently working on:

- identifying the scope of needed training materials for Collaboratorium users;

- refining aspects of the technical “search & retrieval” environment; and
- identifying best practices for materials that are intended to be shared and adapted (copyright, accessibility, etc.).

Hannah Wildman Short from the Philosophy Department has also joined the subcommittee. The subcommittee will be using her materials on teaching Concept 10 (Ethical Reasoning) to populate and pilot the Collaboratorium.
